Armenian tourism:

1-Armenia drops ten notches in Travel & Tourism Competitiveness report 2015:

Armenia is ranked 89th out of 141 countries in the Travel & Tourism Competitiveness Index 2015 of the World Economic Forum, having dropped ten notches from the previous report.

Armenia is ranked number one in the world in terms of population's access to clean drinking water and cellular network coverage and is at the bottom of the list in terms of the number of HIV-infected people.

Armenia is also 38th in terms of safety, 48th in terms of health care, 71st in terms of quality of human resources, 73rd in terms of tourism services infrastructure, 77th in terms of price affordability, 83rd in terms of international openness, 92nd in terms of aviation infrastructure and 99th in terms of cultural resources and business travels.

Spain heads the Travel & Tourism Competitiveness Index (TTCI) ranking for the first time ever, thanks to its cultural resources, infrastructure and adaptation to digital consumption habits.

Traditional strong travel and tourism destinations such as France, Germany, the United States, the United Kingdom, Switzerland, Australia, Italy, Japan and Canada complete the top 10.

Of the large emerging markets, China (17th) and Brazil (28th) made it into the top 30, whereas Russia, South Africa and India ranked 45th, 48th and 52nd, respectively [3].

2- Yerevan on top three list of May holiday destinations for Russian tourists:

According to Oktogo.ru, Russian tourists had, on average, four-day tours to Yerevan, having spent about $85 per day on hotel accommodation. For comparison, tourists' hotel expenditures were on average $67 per day in Minsk and $56 per day in Almaty.

3- National Geographic Traveler names Armenia's Lake Sevan among top ten tourist destinations in former Soviet Union's space:

It is written in the fresh issue of National Geographic Travel that in Armenia tourists can learn how to cook lavash (cracker bread) and how Armenian brandy is produced. Lake Sevan visitors can taste trout, which is available in every coastal cafe here.

Russian language version of National Geographic Traveler is published in 110,000 copies and distributed in Russia and the CIS countries.

Travel.ru is a popular Russian portal on trips. Some 2 million people visit this portal every month.

Sevan is one of the largest mountainous lakes in Europe and Asia. It sits in the middle of Armenian Highland at an altitude of 1914 meters.

The lake's water surface is 1,500 square kilometers. Sevan is the main resource of drinking water in the region.

3- Yerevan, the capital city of Armenia, has been included on the list of Europe's oldest cities of the UK's The Telegraph:

"Some 30 years before Rome was founded, the city that is now Armenia's capital was serving as an important stop along the caravan routes from Asia to Europe," The Telegraph says.

4- More than 70 companies from Armenia and six other countries participate In Tour Expo agro tourism:

More than 70 companies from Armenia, Bulgaria, Egypt, Georgia, Iran, Spain and Israel are showcasing their services and products at 'In Tour Expo' agro tourism fair that kicked off today at Yerevan-Expo center.

the first exhibition held last year under the theme "Tourism, recreation and entertainment" had attracted only one foreign company, while this year the number of participating companies has grown by 30 percent.

the purpose of the exhibition is to provide a professional platform for an open discussion and exchange of experience 'in order to find the best tourism development solutions and to determine guidelines for the industry's further development.

"The exhibition will set new trends in the development of tourism and hospitality industry, revealing the most topical issues and gives every participant an opportunity to establish new business relationships and learn a lot of useful applied information"

5- Yerevan is among top five CIS capitals visited by Russians in 2015:

A Russian online hotel booking service Oktogo.ru has announced the most popular tourist destinations of Russian citizens in 2015 across the former Soviet Union. The ranking of countries is topped by Belarus, which is followed by Ukraine, Kazakhstan, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Uzbekistan, Moldova, Kyrgyzstan and Tajikistan.

Russian tourists stay on average three days in the Armenian capital spending about $60 per day on hotel accommodation.

According to Oktogo.ru, in 2015 Russians stay for three and a half days on average in CIS countries spending 4,500 rubles on hotel accommodation per day. The number of tourist trips by Russians to CIS countries, booked via the Internet has grown this year by 150 percent.

The statistics shows that Belarus accounts for 40% of Russians' trips to CIS countries. Ukraine accounts for 17%, Kazakhstan for 14%, Azerbaijan for 10%, Armenia for 8%, Uzbekistan for 5%, Moldova for 3% and Kyrgyzstan and Tajikistan for 2% and 1% respectively. According to Oktogo.ru, Tashkent is the city where Russians spend on average five days, while Brest is the city where they spend a day and a half.

6- Interest in Armenian tourism market growing in the world:

Certain progress has been achieved in implementation of projects on infrastructure development in the country.

One of the objectives is to develop human resource.

There are currently over 330 hotels across Armenia, as compared to some 3-4 hotels, all of them in Yerevan, in 2000, the expert said

Private businesses have had their contribution proving able to respond quickly to market. Hotel companies report some 31.4% of tourists visiting Armenia in January-December 2014 were from CIS countries, 30.1% were from EU countries and 38.5% were from other countries.

Number of tourists travelling to Armenia grew by 11.3% to over 1.2 million in 2014, as compared to the year before.

7- Hotel prices in Yerevan up 15-20% ahead of Armenian Genocide centenary:

A twin room in a three-star hotel in Yerevan costs 16,000 to 20,000 drams per day, the price for a similar room in a four-star hotel averages 24,000 to 28,000 drams and prices for per-day accommodation in a single room in a five-star hotel range from 51,000 drams to 76,000 drams.

The Armenian law demands hotels to indicate their star class on the building and in ads.

Armenian genocide was the first genocide committed in XX century. Turkey rejects the accusation of massacres and the killing of one and a half million Armenians during World War I.

The fact of the Armenian genocide is recognized by many countries, particularly by Syria, Uruguay, Russia, France, Lithuania, most of the U.S. states, as well as by the parliaments of Greece, Cyprus, Argentina, Belgium, Wales, National Council of Switzerland, Common House of Canada, the Sejm of Poland and lower house of Italian parliament.

8- A professional tourism group seeks new adventure travel routes in Armenia :

The tour group will focus on all areas of adventure tourism, including alpinism, climbing, mountain hiking, speleo tours, ecology tourism, ride tours and bike tours, as well as fishing.

Mild climate, difficult still accessible routes, beautiful sceneries and lots of historic and cultural monuments help vary and combine different travel routes and various trip components, the club representatives said. The tours will be arranged by and paid from the funds of As Tour Club, the members of which have been in adventure tourism since 2008.

In 2012-2014, the members of the club participated in three Armenian-Russian tour expeditions held by the Armenian Institute of Tourism and the Russian International Academy for Tourism.

9- Heifer project international presents one tour package for regional visitor:

EU-supported program designed to promote innovative rural tourism in the Black Sea basin region.

Called "One tour package for regional visitors", it allows European tourists to visit Armenia, Georgia, Turkey and Bulgaria.

the purpose of the package is to present this region as a whole, so that tourists get a general idea about it. The package offers 10 different tourist destinations, each including all these four countries.

The project will build effective and replicable networks of capable local service providers in rural tourism, as well as will help travel agencies to co-develop market and sell a new unique tourist product that encourages interflows of visitors intra-regionally.

10- Tourist visits to Armenia grow 11.3% to 1.2 million in 2014:

Armenia hosted over 1.2 million visitors in 2014 – 11.3% more than a year earlier, «Significant growth was visible also in domestic tourism – 28.4% in 2014, compared with 2013, to about 859, 000, ».

11- ACBA-CREDIT AGRICOLE BANK and Germany's NABU to support development of ecotourism in Armenia:

Armenia's ACBA-CREDIT AGRICOLE BANK and Nature and Biodiversity Conservation Union (NABU), one of the oldest and largest environment associations in Germany, have signed an agreement to join efforts for protection of Armenia's environment and create favorable conditions for the development of ecotourism.

12- Government releases 185 million drams for development of tourism:

The Armenian government on Thursday made a decision to release 185 million drams for development of tourism in 2015.

The Armenian government on made a decision to release 185 million drams for development of tourism in 2015.

the government will continue to assist in the organization of festivals of wines, barbecue and honey conducted in different regions of the country. Also "The government will continue to support international guides' center in cooperation with the World Federation of Tourism Associations (WFTA).

According to the ministry of economy, about 1.2 million foreigners visited Armenia last year, up from 1.084 million in 2013.

13- International guide training center to open in Yerevan:
this is the first such center in the region and only the third in the world.

German Society for International Cooperation (GIZ), the USAID and the Yerevan State University CONTRIBUTED IN THE ESTABLISHMENT of the center. Two international training courses for guides were conducted in Armenia one in 2011, and another in 2012 in cooperation with WFTGA, which has two other centers in Cyprus and Malaysia [4]
